COMMUNICATION | I have acquired great communication skills from past work experience and working my way up to store manager. Being store manager of Little Caesars required great communication skills not only with my employees but the customers as well to maintain a well running business along with happy, returning customers.

LEADERSHIP | Working my way up to store manager at Little Caesars really allowed me to find and grow into my leadership skills. I have a natural want and drive to help others and guide them to peak quality and efficiency but working in a management role really allowed me to sharpen those assets and acquire excellent leadership skills.
